Missions Update: Good News for India

George Chavanikamannil founded Good News for India (GNFI) which started a university to train young Christians in the ministry. Since its inception, CNFI has planted hundreds of churches and has opened several children's homes.

In a recent GNFI newsletter, an urgent prayer request was highlighted:

"While all of our children's homes are in need of land and buildings, the one in Jamunkatha is in desperate need. A landlord is willing to sell some land in an ideal location for this home. As the price for land in this area is extremely high, we need a major miracle to purchase land here. Would you please fervently pray to the Lord for a miracle? If the Lord has blessed you financially and you would like to do something significant for the Kingdom, please help us procure some land here."

More information regarding GNFI and how you can pray more specifically or how you can give a financial donation can be found at www.goodnewsforindia.org.

Please be sure to visit this excellent website for information, pictures, updates, and inspiring testimonies about the work God is doing through GNFI.

Please take time this week to lift GNFI and pray specifically that God would provide the land they need for this special ministry.
